

1515: Managing Projects. Introduction to Project Management

- Trainer: Antonia Hemling, MA Political Behaviour, Consultant Management and Leadership, Trainer & Coach
- Dates: Friday, 09th November 2018, 03pm-08pm and Saturday, 10th November 2018, 09am-05pm as well as Friday, 16th November 2018, 03pm-08pm and Saturday, 17th November 2018, 09am-05pm
- Course Content: Project management skills are gaining importance in almost every field of employment. This seminar offers an introduction to project management and allows students to gain an insight into this area of knowledge.
The seminar provides an overview of the major concepts and methods in project management. It explains the role and responsibilities of a project manager and introduces the tools and knowledge needed to define project aims and objectives. It then lets students employ techniques to plan, carry out, control and review project performance in an interactive manner.
- Learning Goals: The seminar will allow students to gain an understanding of the key terms and concepts of project management. It will also address transferable project management soft skills including team selection and motivation, leadership, communication and presentation techniques.
- Study Performance: Full attendance and active participation, involving in practical exercises and role play, reflecting of practical exercises, presenting of work results, completion of possible tasks between the course days, seminar language is English
- Registration: On Stud.IP

Credits:

2 Credits

Bachelor's degree and Master's degree at Leibniz University of Hanover, further information regarding your course of studies on the website: https://www.sk.uni-

hannover.de/lp_studiengaenge.html

Interdisciplinary Bachelor: Compulsory module

"Schlüsselkompetenzen", field B

B.Sc. Technical Education: Compulsory module

"Schlüsselkompetenzen", field C